Recall #: AH06 | Repairs to Flange of Fuel Filter Unit Recall Date: 2017 May 03

Recall Description
Porsche has determined that, over time, fine hairline cracks can appear on the filter flange of the fuel pump on the affected vehicles. As a result, fuel might seep out causing a fuel odor. External aging exposure and oxidization reduces the component strength over an extended vehicle life. Additionally, fuel can intrude into the fuel filter flange material under pressure from the inside and cause tension within the component.

Remedy
Affected vehicles will be recalled to the workshop. Fuel filter flanges will be inspected for cracks and replaced if cracks are found. If no cracks are detected, a protective film will be affixed to the fuel delivery unit flange to protect this area of the flange from external influences.

This recall was open as of the date/time that this report was generated. For more information, or to find out if the recall has been closed, please contact PORSCHE or visit Porsche's website. (https://recall.porsche.com/)
