Recall #: AH02 | Replace Seat Occupancy Detection System for Passenger Seat Recall Date: 2017 Feb 28

Recall Description

The sensor mats for the occupancy detection system may fail, leading to the possible non-detection of a front passenger. As a result, the front passenger airbag may not deploy in the event of a crash and, as such, may fail to comply with Federal Motor Vehicle Safety Standard (FMVSS) No. 208 ?Occupant Crash Protection?. However, in the event that the occupant detection mat malfunctions, the airbag warning lamp or ?Passenger Airbag OFF? lamp will be activated in order to alert the occupants.

Remedy

The vehicles will be recalled to the workshop and an optimized sensor mat and seat cushion will be installed free of charge. There are no plans for reimbursing the owners as all affected vehicles are still covered under warranty.

This recall was open as of the date/time that this report was generated. For more information, or to find out if the recall has been closed, please contact PORSCHE or visit Porsche's website. (https://recall.porsche.com/)

Recall #: AH06 | Repairs to Flange of Fuel Filter Unit Recall Date: 2017 May 03

Recall Description

Porsche has determined that, over time, fine hairline cracks can appear on the filter flange of the fuel pump on the affected vehicles. As a result, fuel might seep out causing a fuel odor. External aging exposure and oxidization reduces the component strength over an extended vehicle life. Additionally, fuel can intrude into the fuel filter flange material under pressure from the inside and cause tension within the component.

Remedy

Affected vehicles will be recalled to the workshop. Fuel filter flanges will be inspected for cracks and replaced if cracks are found. If no cracks are detected, a protective film will be affixed to the fuel delivery unit flange to protect this area of the flange from external influences.

This recall was open as of the date/time that this report was generated. For more information, or to find out if the recall has been closed, please contact PORSCHE or visit Porsche's website. (https://recall.porsche.com/)
